

AWAKE ENLIGHTEN LOVE

Empower the Next Generation

The next generation is our future. We aim to provide the opportunity for them to build their faith, character, and confidence; acquire skills and achieve academic success; learn leadership and become more engaged citizens. The rising living costs in the Bay Area are putting an unprecedented strain on local schools and families in low-income communities. There's also a growing deficit in foster homes, so children are not getting placed as quickly in a home to get the care and support they need. In high school and colleges globally, we have an opportunity to build up young men and women to become future leaders, confident in their faith and image, who can also build up others.

In partnership with local and global organizations, CPC seeks to equip low-income schools and empower the next generation to reach their full potential. We invite you to get involved.
